DOCTORAL PROGRAM
IN EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP

Higher Education Leadership Pathway

This pathway to the Ed.D. consists of an 18-credit concentration in Higher Education Leadership within the 59 credit doctoral program. Practicing and aspiring leaders in higher education will join a cohort of peers for a 3-year program of study that develops adept scholar-practitioners who investigate critical issues facing colleges and universities. Students concurrently complete coursework while initiating dissertation research.

Dissertation Completion Pathway

The Executive Ed.D. pathway is designed specifically for those who were enrolled in an accredited educational leadership doctoral program and completed all requirements but the dissertation (ABD). This 20-credit program of study (assuming 39 doctoral level credits can be transferred) provides an individualized experience, with a focus on current problems of practice, the dissertation process and research in educational leadership. The Executive Ed.D. provides an optimal 18-24 month period of time in which to complete the degree.
